COMMENTS: The Hino 258 is a very versatile truck. Its low profile design, coupled with a combination of superb maneuverability, payload capability and seven available wheelbases (175" - 271"), make it ideal for towing, landscaping and the delivery of building materials, furniture and general freight. The 258 features the Hino J-series 6 cylinder turbo diesel engine with 230 horsepower mated to a PTO-capable Allison 2200RDS 6-speed automatic transmission. The Hino 258 is available with either hydraulic disc brakes or air brakes with ABS. The 258 can also be ordered with optional Hendrickson rear air suspension for a smoother ride. The 258 features an 8,000 lb. front axle and a 17,500 lb. rear axle, when combined, to provide a GVWR of 25,500 lbs. Hino offers a clean chassis as standard for the 258LP model. With nothing mounted to the outside of the frame rails behind the cab, the clean chassis configuration is ideal for applications where additional clearance is required.
